As a result of my Trollwood involvement I have learned...

You can be super busy, but that doesn't mean it has to be stressful. If you're having fun and surrounded by the right people, a 12-hour day goes by in the blink of an eye.

I would tell someone who has never participated in Trollwood that...

Don't be afraid to have your own experience. Trollwood has endless opportunities and there are so many different ways to get involved. Don't feel obligated to try to be like everyone else- you'll still be accepted and you're more likely to have fun.

Three of my most vivid Trollwood memories are...

- Having great conversations with the girls around me in the dressing room as would get ready for shows last summer.
- Laughing maybe the hardest I ever have during dance rehearsals, and then trying to hold back laughter on stage with my partner, Alex.
- At final circle last year, when we all sang our last song together in the living room, there was like 10 seconds of silence as we let the final note reverberate throughout the room. You could tell that none of us wanted to let this last note, and the experience as a whole, end so we just sat there smiling at each other.

My future plans are...

I will be attending Concordia College to study political science and history.
